STUDENT LIFE

Spirit Soars At Homecoming 1980

"And the overall winners are . . . the seniors!" This was the end of the sign contest that began homecoming weekend. Other winners were the freshmen for the best slogan and the juniors for the most artistic sign.

The game was held on Saturday night, and unfortunately, Marian's wish to reduce St. Joe's record to 16-1 was not fulfilled. St. Joe won 19-14.

During half-time ceremonies, Mary Nommay escorted by Des Schillinger, was crowned homecoming queen. The evening ended with a dance in the Marian gym.

SPIRIT WEEK

Each class presented its "own little world" on Spirit Day by decorating the halls and dressing in costume. The seniors were Arabian Knights complete with camels and tents. The juniors were Knights in California and presented a hall that showed all of Calif. from Walt Disney Land to Alcatraz. The sophs in "Punk Rock Land" used strobe lights, glitter and pink hair to present their theme. Freshmen had sweet dreams during class dressed in pajamas for their version of Nighty Night Knights.

The second day consisted of girls' volleyball and boys' basketball games between classes and against the faculty. Spirit Court winners were: srs. Mary Nommay, Pat Foster, jrs. Julie Farabaugh, Norb Hintz, sophs. Jenny Hayes, Vince DelPrete, frosh Kristin Grzeskowiak, Jim Hart.

"Harvey" Steps onto Marian Stage

As the curtain opened on November 14th, Marian students made last minute preparations for the opening night of "HARVEY". The drama department presented the humorous story of Elwood P. DOWD and his best friend, the pooka rabbit, Harvey.

Eric Swanson played the lead role of ELWOOD, while Kathi Lawton starred as his nervous sister Veta Simmons. Shelly Kruggel, Scott Harding, Jan Oedekerker, Ron Bryan, Bill Gilcrest, Ron Kloska, Colleen Shannon, Cindy Rogers, Mary-Theresa Daher, and Pete Mickelson rounded out the cast. Behind the scenes was the hard-working stage crew whose time and effort contributed to the success of the play. The crew was directed by stage managers Lori Goralski and Patti Lawrence. Recognition was given to Mike Murray and Mary Pat Lowe for their art work and to Riley O'Callaghan, assistant director. Special thanks went to Mr. Robert Van Goey, who directed the entire production.

ROWDIE ON THE RISE

FARMERS FIRE UP

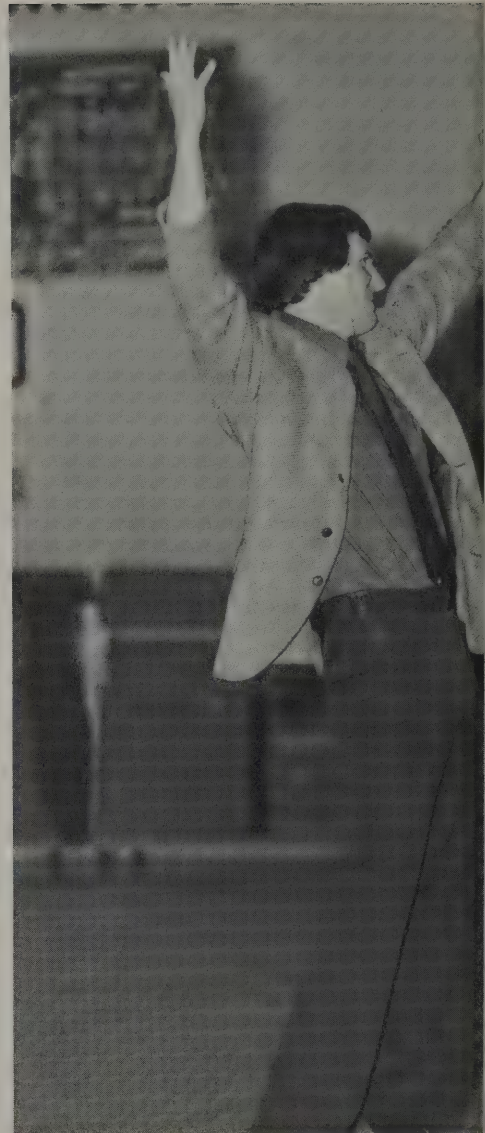

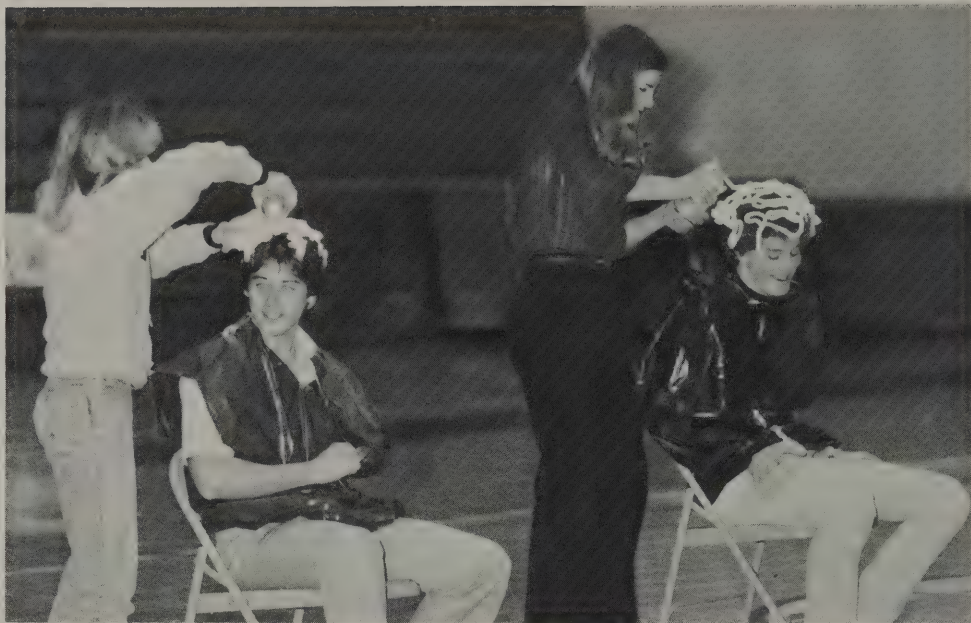

Although the Knights were denied the chance to challenge Penn in a basketball game, it didn't stop the students from displaying their school spirit when the Cagers took on the La Ville Lancers. Originally "Farmer's Day" was set aside so that the students could dress up as their opponents, the Kingsmen. But since LaVille is almost equal to the Kingsmen in agricultural advancement, it only seems right to continue the tradition by merely substituting Lancers for Kingsmen.

And if "Farmer's Day" wasn't enough, the students were given their chance to show their spirit on "Cowboy and Indian Day!" It was created to commemorate another Varsity B-Ball event against the St. Joe Indians. The majority of the student body came dressed in western style outfits to show how just a little sharp shooting can destroy any Indians.

SHOW YOUR SPIRIT!

While sitting in the cheering section, you might hear a variety of different chants. "SENIORS" or "1982, we're the class of '82," may just be a few examples.

Led by our cheerleaders, we show our tremendous school spirit. Whether it be basketball or football, we're there to boost the confidence of our team and lead them to victory.

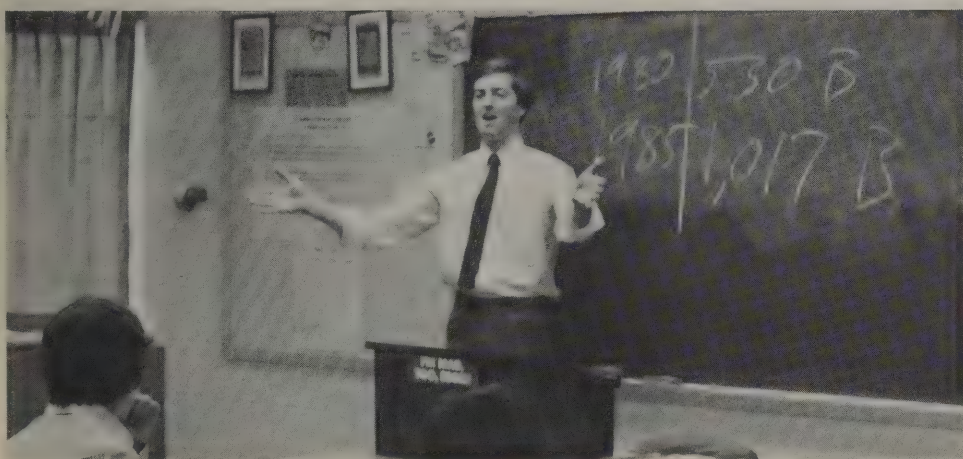

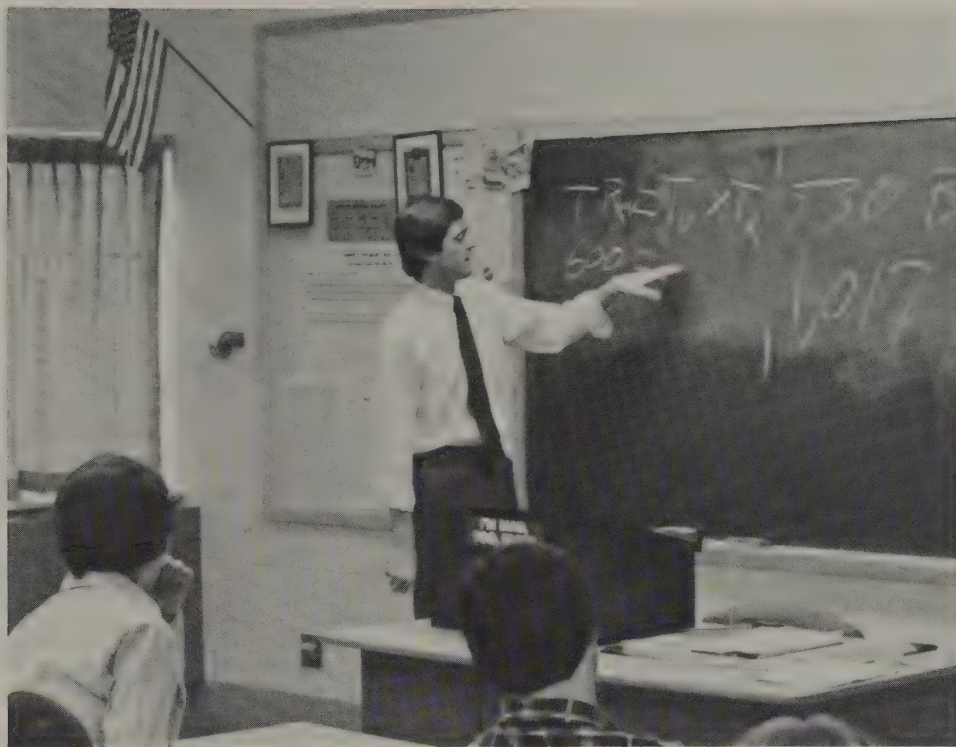

Whether we win or lose, we're there supporting our players with smiles on our faces, easing the tension of those pre-game jitters.

So, the next time you're sitting in those stands, try just a little harder to cheer the Knights to a victory.

The race is on . . . and the winner is . . .

Mr. Robert Hass' Political Thought class, along with a few select juniors, had two unusual visitors this year. On October 20, the Democratic Majority Whip, John Brademas, and on October 27, Republican John Hiler, appeared. The men were contending against each other for a position in the House of Representatives from our third district.

At the beginning of the class period, each presented his platform and philosophy. A question and answer session followed, of which, the students enthusiastically took advantage.

They asked questions pertaining to each candidate's stand on such issues as the draft, taxes, education, and abortion. For the first time in many students' lives, they learned firsthand about politics, not to mention about each candidate's own platform.

Dances Highlight the Weekends

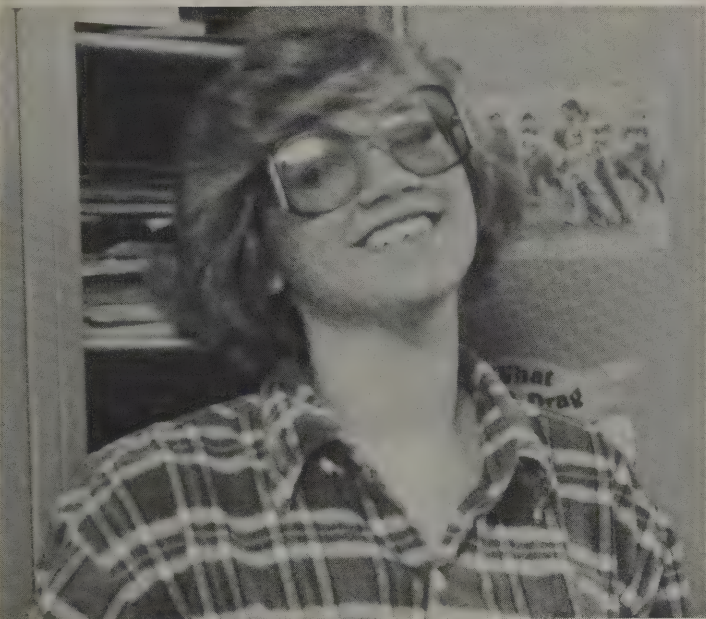

In addition to the regular dances held this year, the juniors sponsored a "Toga Dance" in November. The idea was taken from the popular movie, National Lampoon's "Animal House". Students wore sheets fashioned into togas while dancing to popular "Animal House" songs such as "Shout".

The Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by the Student Council, gave the girls a chance to ask the guys out. Father Schooler "married" couples, presenting them with pop-tab rings.

RADICAL REVIVAL

TALENT NIGHT

Mr. Greg Geyer MC'd the Annual talent show, providing humorous entertainment between the acts. Student acts included piano and singing solos and duets as well as accordion solos, duets and trios. Highlights of the evening included Fr. Schultze with his rubber duckie, S & V and the mystery player and a flute duet by Katy McMahon and Kathy Moore.

SPRING PLAY "SUCCEEDS"

What would you say if someone told you that a man named J. Pierpont Finch was a window washer (exterior decorator) one day and only about two months later was Chairman of the Board? Poppycock and Balderdash?! Well, in the Marian play "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" he did it.

This amazing play was produced under the guidance of director Robert Van Goey, his assistant Ron Kloska and of course the stage managers extraordinaire, Patti Lawyer and Lori Goralski.

But to get back to the story: J. Pierpont (George Cressy) goes to work at the Wonderful World of Wickets Co. and in between fighting with scheming executives such as the president's nephew Frump (Pat Quinlan), singing college songs, knitting with the company president (John Hammes), and getting married to his true love, Rosemary (Jan Oedekerk), he rises to the top.

How could Finch accomplish this, you ask? Easy, he has a book, whose name is the same as the play's title (forgetful readers please refer back to paragraph 1). This book tells him all the schemes and under-handed plots a businessman should know.

As can be surmised, Finch succeeds in his goals as did the Drama Department, for the play had the largest attendance ever at a Marian production.

The cast also included: Lu Del Prete, Riley O'Callaghan, Kathi Lawton, Vince Del Prete, Shelly Kruggel, Danni Cleaver, Anne Audenaert, Mindy McIntire, Colleen Shannon, Joel Goossens, Tony Nyers, Peter Lawton, Vic Kasznia, Bill Gilcrest, Ron Bryan, and of course, Father Schooler.

A SPIRITUAL COMMUNITY

A new approach was taken toward the liturgy this year when members of the student body were called to be Eucharistic Ministers, Acolytes (servers), Lectors, and Liturgical Musicians.

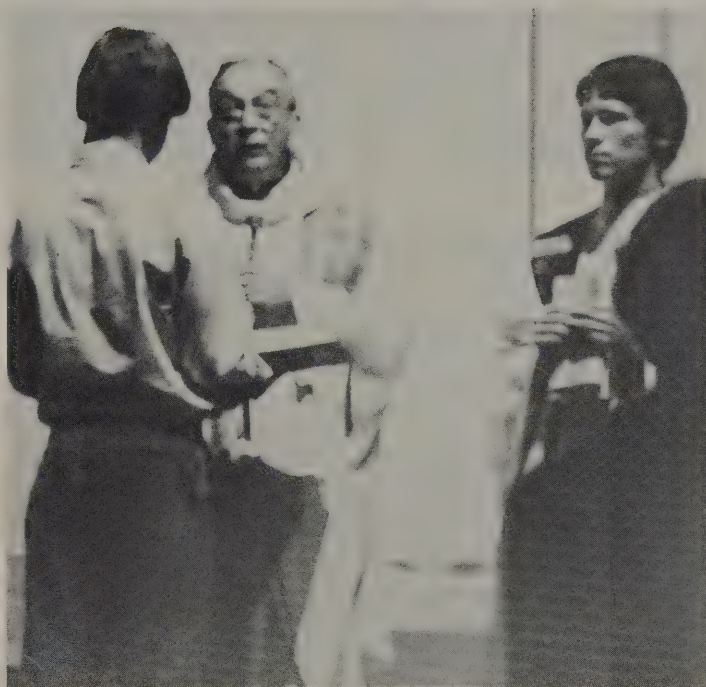

At the Bishop's Mass the candidates were given a blessing by the Bishop before starting their training. Then after weeks of training they were commissioned at a special Mass.

Along with these Masses, paraliturgies, and special services there is also the weekday 7:45 Mass in the chapel. Father Schooler does an excellent job, with the help of the Liturgical Planning Committee.

KNIGHTS REFLECT ON THE DAYS

Although the freshmen had a snowball fight on the way up the hill to Mount Alverno, they had a successful retreat. The focus of the retreat was personal goals and plans.

"Do you know where you're going" was the theme for the sophomore retreat, also held on Mount Alverno. The day centered on slide shows and group talks.

The Junior retreat, led by Fr. Marty Hunkler, was held in Donaldson, IN. Highlights included visiting the nuns, musical chairs, Little Bunny Foo Foo and the Grand Pa Zuza.

The senior retreat, also held in Donaldson, was led by Fr. Tom McDermott. It focused on the past four years with collages on the wall, talks and Meditation.

AWARDS NIGHT

Students who excelled in academics were honored at Awards Night on May 13. Awards were given in all academic areas of each department of study.

Many of the seniors received Hoosier Scholarships during the course of the evening.

The key note address was given by F. Lester from St. Thomas Parish. After his commendation of the students, awards were presented.

A reception in the cafeteria for the students and their parents followed the ceremonies.

Sports Banquet Honors Athletes

The sports banquet honored all athletes participating in fall sports. Mr. Fred Kalil, a Marian graduate, gave the keynote address at the dinner.

BACCALAUREATE

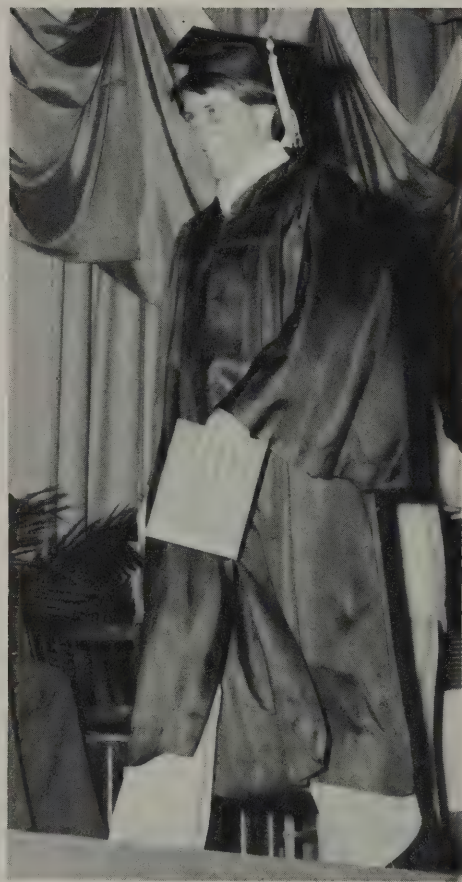

The senior class celebrated their last mass together at St. Matthew's Cathedral on May 14, the night before graduation exercises.

The mass was celebrated by Bishop McManus, with the homily given by Father Schooler.

Each student was recognized by the Bishop, and each gave a blessing to his parents.

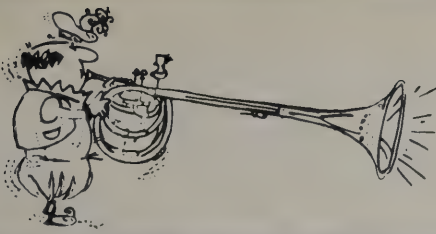

The liturgical musicians and singers performed at the mass, providing all the music.

This last mass was one more step in the process of graduation. The next would make each Marian senior an alumnus.

SENIORS' LAST DAY

EVERY senior in the class of 1981 participated in the annual caravan from Rose Park.

Cars were decorated with signs, streamers, and people hanging from windows.

All seniors drove from one parking lot to the other screaming and cheering that it was their LAST DAY!!

A Lot of Hassle for a Little Tassel

Commencement activities finally arrived for the class of 1981 on May 15. The students, dressed in cap and gown, processed into gym to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance".

The valedictory address was given by Peggy Rogers and the salutatory address was given by Katy Shannon. The guest speaker for the graduation ceremonies was Father Tom McDermott, who also organized the senior retreat.

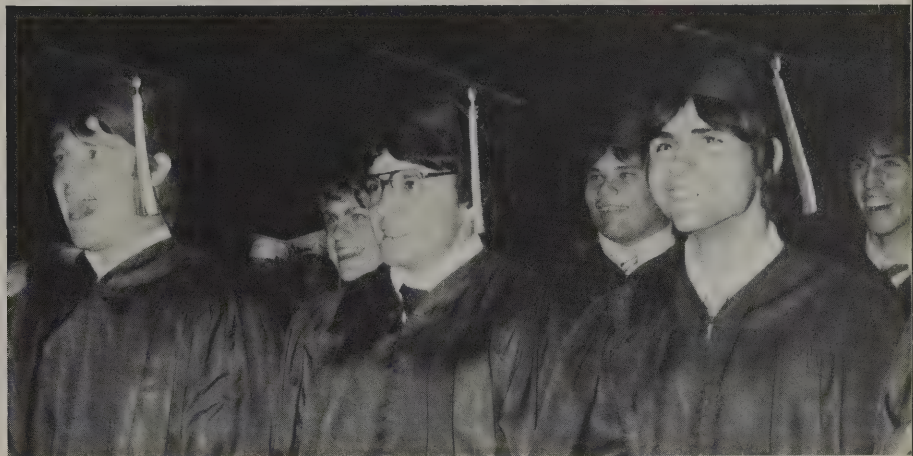

Each student individually received his diploma; even Charlie Rice, who paid a dollar for his.

The seniors became alumni when Class President Jeff Ryan led the group in the turning of their tassels. "We made it!"

"Just the Way You Are" was the theme for the 1981 Junior-Senior prom held in the Monogram Room at Notre Dame on May 9.

Each couple received a token glass inscribed with the theme as a remembrance of the evening.

The music was by Parkervash, who played numerous fast songs.

The prom was organized by the Junior Class, under the direction of the officers; President Phil Pairitz, Vice President Sue James, Treasurer Carol Rosenthal, and Secretary Kelly Portolese.

Enhancing Worship and School Spirit

The Marian mime group, "The Word" was more active than ever this year, performing skits during masses and at retreats. They gave a memorable performance during the Bishop's mass and performed at open house as well as the local grade schools, thus sharing their unique approach to Scripture.

Marian spirit is definitely on the rise! The newly organized Pep Club reflects this. The club was flooded by eager students who wanted to become members. Being a new organization money was needed. Under the direction of the senior girls, the members raised money by selling hats and pom-poms. The club also sponsored bake sales.

The club's efforts are evident in the increased spirit of the student body. Students now come to the games wearing the "Pep Hats" and brandishing the ever popular pom-poms.

INSPIRATIONS IN THE LITURGY

The liturgical planning committee and the liturgical musicians have worked hard this year under the direction of Mr. Merlin Yoder.

The Musicians help to lead the student body in song at Masses and at other special religious services. They add to the whole atmosphere of prayer and are a vital part of the liturgy.

Father William Schooler also helped guide the Planning Committee with such projects as the Bishop's Mass and the community day of fast.

Both groups' time and efforts were appreciated by everyone.

The Student Council was very active this year. Among their projects were Ethnic Night and a Pizza Fundraiser.

The fundraiser was organized to buy new stage curtains. In order to meet this goal, each student had to sell one case of pizza.

A Thanksgiving food drive was very successful this year. Each homeroom collected food and money for one family. The Student Council, thanks to the help of the student body, was very successful this year.

NHS Active in Community

The NHS was an active organization in both school and community projects. They started off the year with a paper drive (remember that big gray bin in the south parking lot?)

The NHS sponsored bingo parties at two local nursing homes in addition to donating money to charity.

School activities sponsored by the society included Las Vegas Night and directing prospective students and their families at the open house.

The Lance Staff: Hardworking and Dedicated

Under the leadership of senior co-editors Lisa Visingardi and John Bradford, the Lance had an extremely successful year.

There were many changes under the new editors, the main change being the outward format of the paper. Instead of being plain mimeographed sheets with no pictures, the Lance took on the appearance of an actual newspaper. Student reaction to the "revised" paper was good, and more students worked on the staff.

Journalism students aided the Lance by writing most of the articles published. The class was taught by Lance Moderator, Mrs. Margaret DeBoer.

Approximately three times a week, the overworked and underpaid Madrigal Staff got together to create the work of literary yearbook genius that you hold in your hands right now.

This feat was accomplished under the omnipotent, understanding gaze of our Editor-in-Chief, Kathy Shannon. Kathy put up with our bouts of insanity (comprising 98% of our meetings), the "Madrigalettes," and our "enthusiasm" for sellin ads. All this while, she was hopelessly trying to retain at least part of her sanity.

Although most of the staff was new, after a while we were able to produce great layouts and copy while still appearing to be confused and unorganized. Occasionally these appearances were merely acts and thus you are able to read this finished yearbook.

"And The Band Played On..."

This year's band consisted of only twenty members. It was out of these twenty that three separate bands were produced.

The pep, concert, and jazz bands were small, but they made up for size with talent. Every member exhibited his or her individual abilities in the Nisbova solo and ensemble concert that was held in February.

The pep band helps school spirit at basketball and football games. Their hard work is appreciated by all.

Pom Pons Highlight Halftime

"You're kidding! I made the drill team?!" These were some of the thoughts of the girls who were selected to be on the drill team. The team brightened up half-time with their performances at football and basketball games. The girls got new uniforms this year to accompany their new routines.

The main highlight of the girl's year was winning second place in a state contest.

This year's choir was under the direction of Mr. Roger Voelker. Made up of only girls, the sixteen member group practiced every day during the seventh class period.

On Dec. 15th the choir gave its first performance. When this was all over the girls began rehearsing for the NIS-SOVA contest held in February. Awards were received by many of the members.

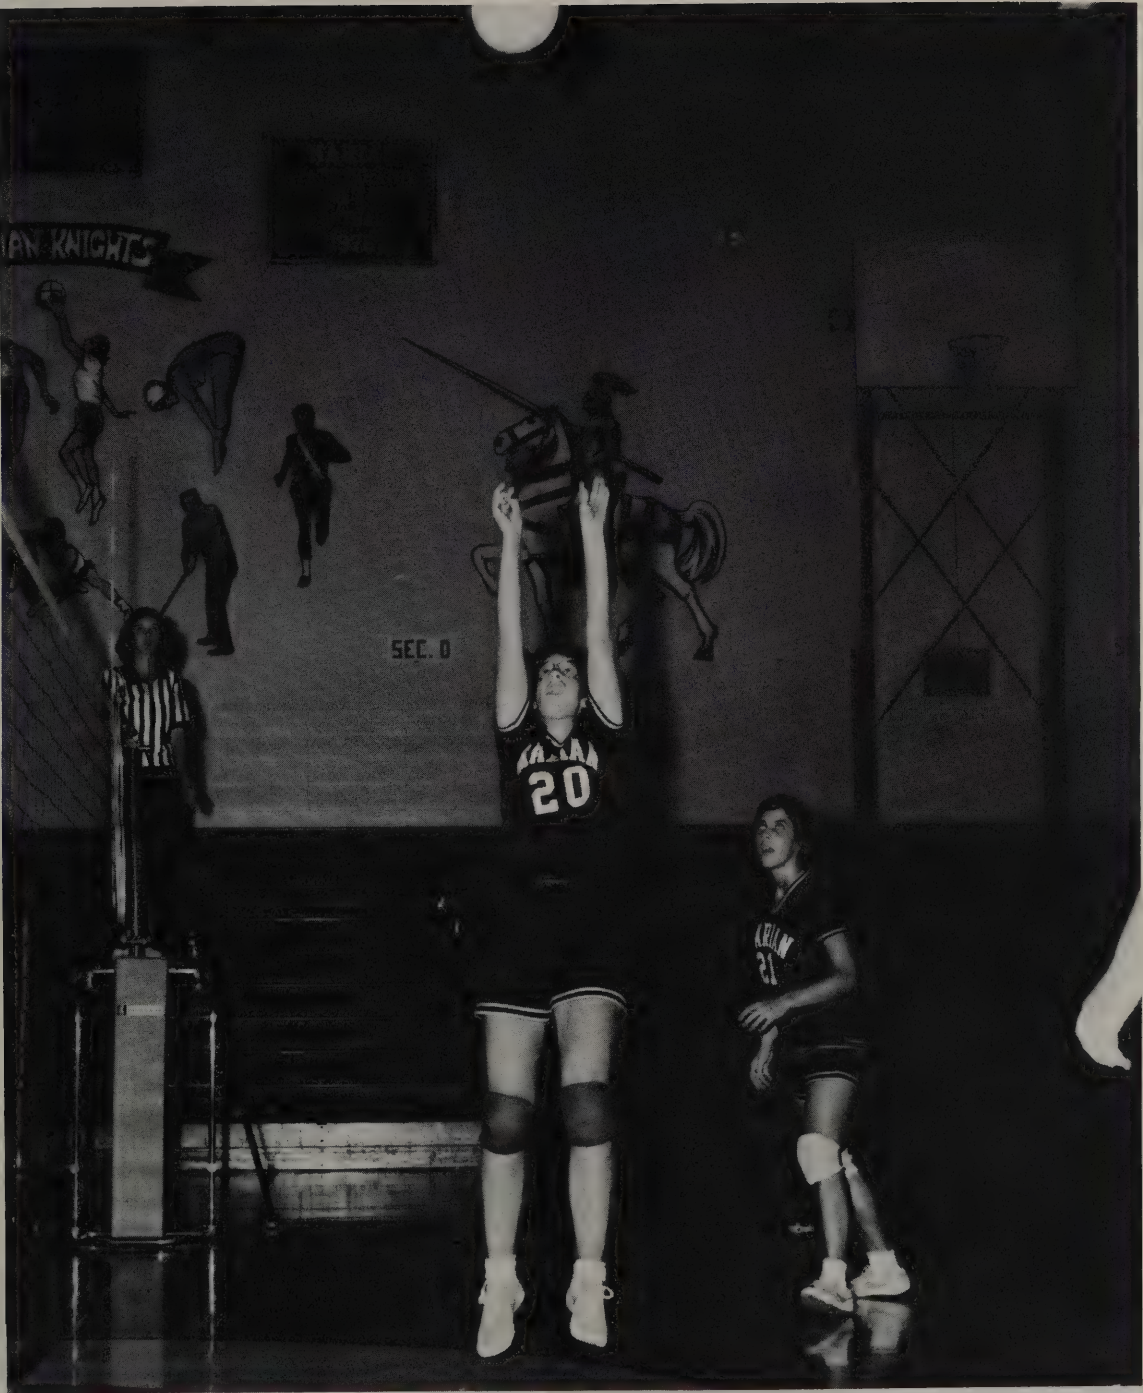

Throughout the year the choir gave excellent performances. Each was highlighted by the results of hard-working hours.

SPORTS

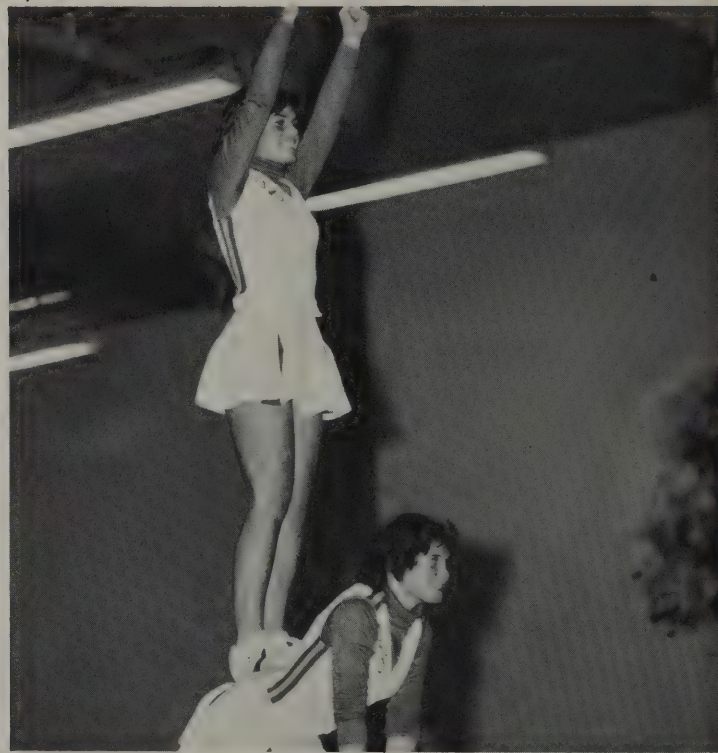

Rah-Rah Ree Kick em in the Knee

At mid-semester, long before the other teams start practice, the varsity cheerleaders are hard at work. This summer the varsity squad attended the Universal Cheerleaders Association camp at Purdue University and was ranked among the top three squads. Camp allowed the girls to get to know each other better, enabling them to work as a team.

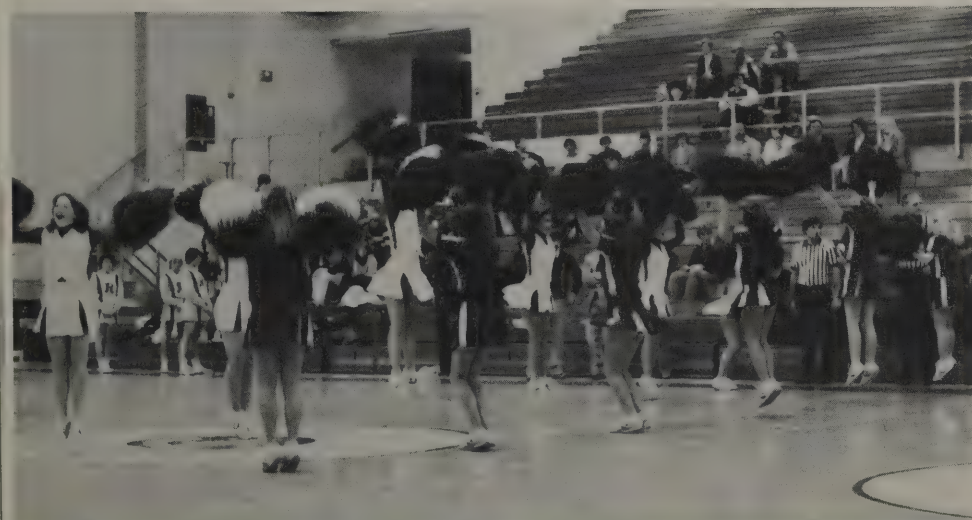

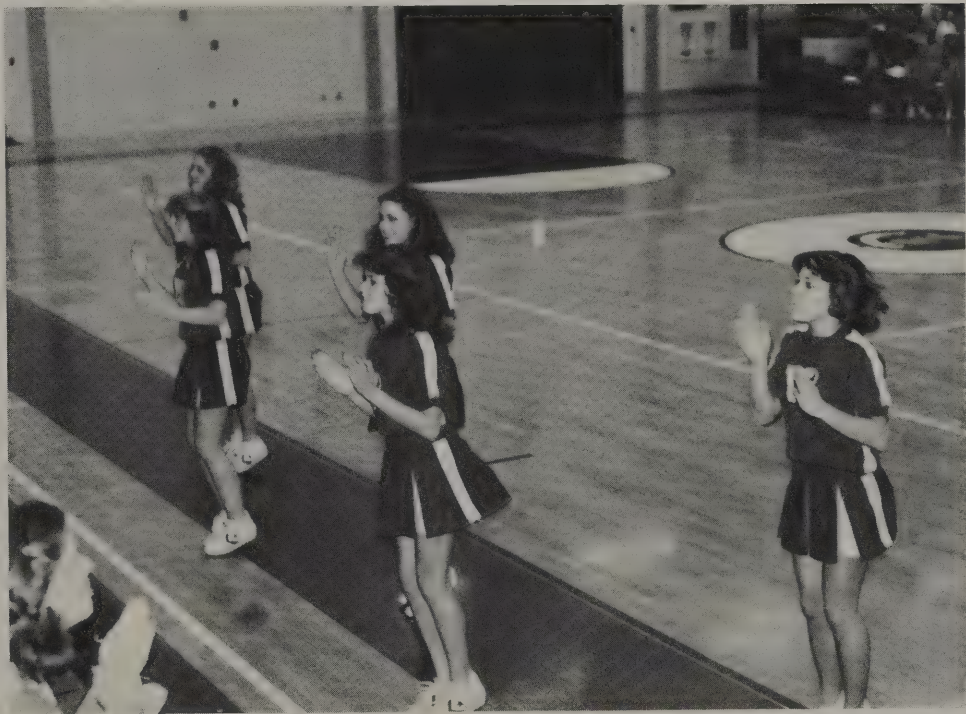

Along with planning homecoming, the cheerleaders organized pep rallies and painted signs. The varsity squad also helped in choosing the freshman squad. This year's captains were junior, Julie Farbaugh and senior, Mary Nommay. Mrs. Laura Vanderheyden was the new moderator this year.

Girls Can Play Football Too!

Marian's first powder puff game took place on November 16. It was designed as a fund raiser for the prom.

Jan Gedekerk and Mindy McIntire were the quarterbacks for the juniors, while Mary Nommay and Leslie Krugel played quarterback for the seniors. The juniors advanced to an early lead, but power and speed enabled the seniors to catch up and tie the game, 12-12.

FOOTBALL TEAM FIGHTS HARD

Marian High School football tradition is still alive. This season the Knights went 5 and 5, but more importantly, kept the record of being the only team in the area to never have a losing season. It was a season of accomplishments and disappointments.

Four of the Knights' losses came to teams that were ranked in the state, and two that went undefeated. The Knights lost a tough 13-7 battle to Fort Wayne Luers and the following week lost a heartbreaker to Fort Wayne North, 23-17 in overtime.

After winning their next two games, things started looking up for the squad. But the next three games left the Knights with a 2 and 5 record. The losses came at the hands of Marion, St. Joe, and Munster. The Munster game proved to be the turning point for the team. They were down 28-0 at halftime only to come back and drop a 28-14 barnburner.

After that loss, the Knights found something inside of themselves that the coaches had been trying to get out all year. That special something was pride and courage. With this in mind, the Knights overpowered their next three opponents. The final game against Bloomington South proved to be the most satisfying. The Knights just completely took charge and moved the ball up and down the field against an overwhelmed Bloomington team.

The Marian Knights proved to be a very gutsy and proud team. They kept the tradition of winning alive and proved to themselves and everyone else, that they were winners.

This year's freshman football team proved that togetherness was an important asset to the game. The team cooperated on and off the field.

Their coach, Mr. Jeff Ziegler, put this group of freshmen through many long, grueling hours of practice. They ended the season with a 3-5 record.

Captains this year were Pete Bukowski, Jim Hart, and Dave Schmitt.

Cross Country Crunches Opponents

The Cross Country team, under the guidance of Coach Steve Rethlake, closed their season with a respectable record of 8 wins and 5 losses. The team captains were Jeff Ryan and Jim Lynch.

Strong performances were consistently given by Jeff Ryan, Jim Lynch, Tony Nyers, Chris Nyers and Pat Quinlan. Closing out their season with a romp over St. Joe was one of the season highlights. Jeff Ryan placed eighth in the South Bend Sectionals, and 16th in the Regionals. Many course records were also set by Jeff.

Jeff Ryan received Most Valuable Player, Tony Nyers captured Most Improved, and Jim Lynch was given Mental Attitude.

Even though the team is losing six talented seniors, those returning are hoping to make next year a winning season.

Aquaknights Make a Big Splash

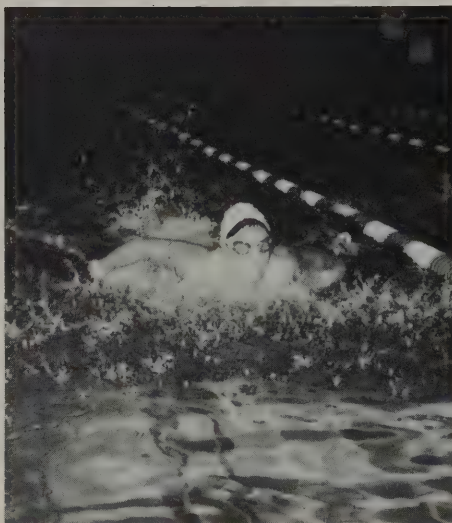

This year's team consisted mainly of freshmen. Team co-captains Janet Greer and Amy Sonneborn consistently placed first throughout the season and placed 3rd and 4th in the sectionals, respectively.

Marian's volleyball teams had another successful season. Both Varsity and B-team had winning records, and proved to be tough competition to other schools.

The girls had set a goal for themselves which was to improve each game and to win Sectionals.

The varsity, with a 17-5 record, won the Concord Invitational.

The B-team had a good season also, ending the year with an 11-6 record.

Coach DeBaets expects a good team next year even though she is losing four seniors. Returning to the team will be a good, experienced nucleus.

FROSH VOLLEYBALL TEAM SHOWS WINNING SPIRIT

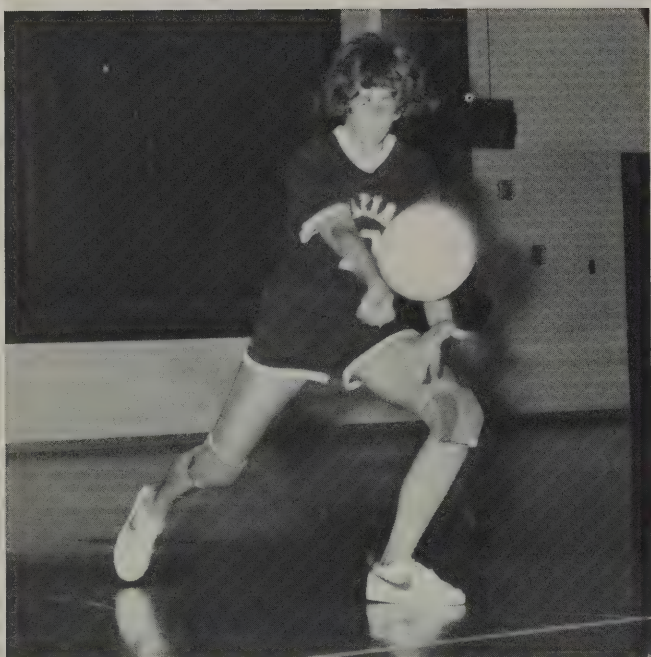

The Freshman volleyball team had a victorious season this year with 12 wins and 2 losses.

Entering the St. Joe Tournament in second place, Marian came out a triumphant first place. They defeated each team, going only two rounds. The victory came when they defeated St. Joe High School, long-time rivals, 15-12, 15-12.

Tennis Team Raises a Racquet for Trophy

Marian fielded one of its youngest tennis teams ever, but the netters still managed to win 10 matches against 7 losses. Without having any seniors on the team, the squad was still able to record several impressive achievements. The two juniors, five sophomores, and five freshmen got off to a rough start, but managed to put it all together for the Bremen Tournament. In defeating host Bremen and visiting Angola, the Knights not only won the Bremen Tournament for the first time but also came home with Marian's first tennis trophy ever.

Several Knights posted impressive season records. Freshman Marcel Macholda, playing at the #3 singles spot won 12, lost 5. In addition he was named Most Improved Player. At the #2 singles spot sophomore Jamie Peil had a record of 13 wins and 4 losses. Pete Bauer was named the team's Most Valuable player after compiling 17 wins and 3 losses and making it to the State Singles Tourney. Junior Noret Flood won the team's Mental Attitude Award.

With everyone returning for next year's squad second-year coach Mark Wurfel is looking ahead. "Winning the Bremen Tournament had to be the highlight of the year. Because of this and some of our other accomplishments we gained some respect around the state this year. Next year, with some hard work, Marian's going for a state ranking and a sectional victory."

Varsity Cagers Show Spirit

The Marian Cagers showed true Knight spirit throughout the year. Many times they took the floor by storm, causing many upsets and close encounters. The most exciting game was the deserved win against Concord. Jerome Calderone shot the deciding basket in the last few seconds, making the score 69-68.

Under Coach Lightfoot's guidance the players were aided in their tough schedule. Being our first year coach brought many changes as well as challenges to the team and the spectators. Yet the talented group rallied many impressive wins throughout the season. Next year looks very promising, but this year's seniors will be missed.

The B-team had a very impressive season. A lot of good players from this team will round out the varsity team next year. Coach Rethlake's cagers have a respectable record of 7 wins and 13 losses.

The team won more games and did better than they were expected to do. As a member of the St. Joseph Valley Freshman League, they played a total of twelve games plus one tournament. The season went well for our newest team.

ICERS' BEST YEAR

The Hockey team turned in one of its best years in the 1980-81 season by winning three of its last four games and recording four ties.

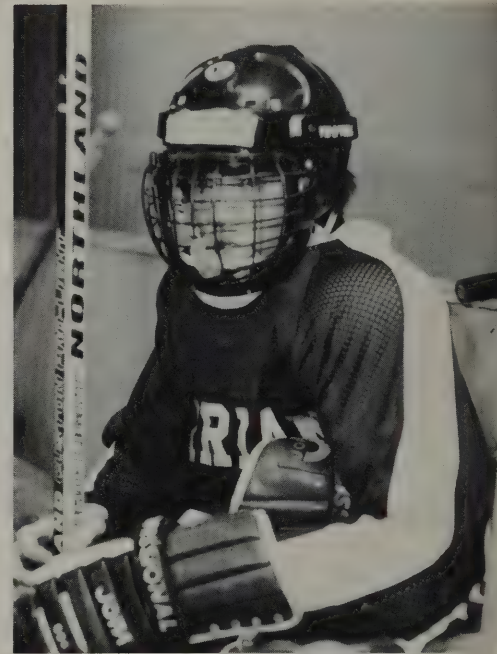

It was not a season without highlights. Bill Gilcrest was the leading scorer and second leading in total points in the Michiana High School Hockey League.

The team also recorded wins against teams they hadn't been able to beat in at least four years, Penn 6-3, Adams, and Washington 3-2.

The team will be hurt by the losses of seniors Paul Santerre, Steve Phelps, Greg Toepp, Charlie Rice, and Bob Knight, but hope to better their season next year. Returning will be MVP Austin Drinkall, League's leading scorer Bill Gilcrest, MIP Jim Cocquyt, and best defenseman Tim McTigue.

"Record-breaking" describes the 1980-81 Marian wrestling team, who broke or tied 12 school records.

The 1980-81 team had the best win-loss record, (12-2), which also broke the most win record, (12), and the fewest losses record, (2).

The grapplers broke additional meet records: Most points in a dual meet, (62, vs. Northridge), fewest points by opponents (3, vs. Northridge), most pins in a meet (8, vs. Jimtown), most consecutive pins in a dual match (5, vs. St. Joe), and most consecutive wins, (14, Clay to Westview, Nov. 19-20).

Individuals also broke records: Quickest pin went to Captain Tom Adamson in seven seconds, Marc Hartman made the most pins in a row (5), and the most pins in a season (10).

The wrestlers placed first in two tournaments; The Bremen Invitational and the St. Joe Tournaments. Three grapplers advanced to the regionals; Captain Scott DeHart, Jeff Ryan, and Eric Hancz. Coaches this year were John Kovatch and Randy Patterson.

GIRLS' TENNIS: A SMASHING SUCCESS

This year's girls' tennis team was coached by Mrs. Hayden. The team was relatively young, and many of their matches were rained out.

The most valuable and the mental attitude awards went to Gina Farabaugh. The most improved player was Melanie Young.

One player, Melanie Zeitler, was injured for the season.

In the sectionals, the doubles lost the second round, while the singles lost the first round.

ACADEMICS

The Faith of the Knights

The Faith of the Knights grew this year through school masses, programs, and retreats. Along with this new growth, greater student involvement was seen. Through a new program students were encouraged to be more active in their faith by participating in the mass as lectors, acolytes, and musicians. The class retreats were planned this year by the students themselves. The retreats helped students to grow spiritually and individually.

Religion is not all serious though. Mr. Finley's Fireside Chats prove this.

English: Fact or Fiction

The English Department, headed by Mr. Van Goey, had another good year.

Freshmen took either English I or Basic English I. They gave speeches, studied grammar and read short stories.

Sophomores were offered Basic English II or English II. They wrote detailed essays and read a selection of books. When asked what was their favorite book, quite a few replied with a laugh, "Three by Flannery O'Connor, of course!"

The Juniors could take Rhetoric, Journalism and Creative Writing or General English. These classes are centered mostly on writing various types of essays. The Juniors also gave speeches on their commitment to their country.

Seniors could take World, British, American Literature, or Practical English. These classes centered mostly on the reading of various types of literature.

Languages Add Foreign Flavor

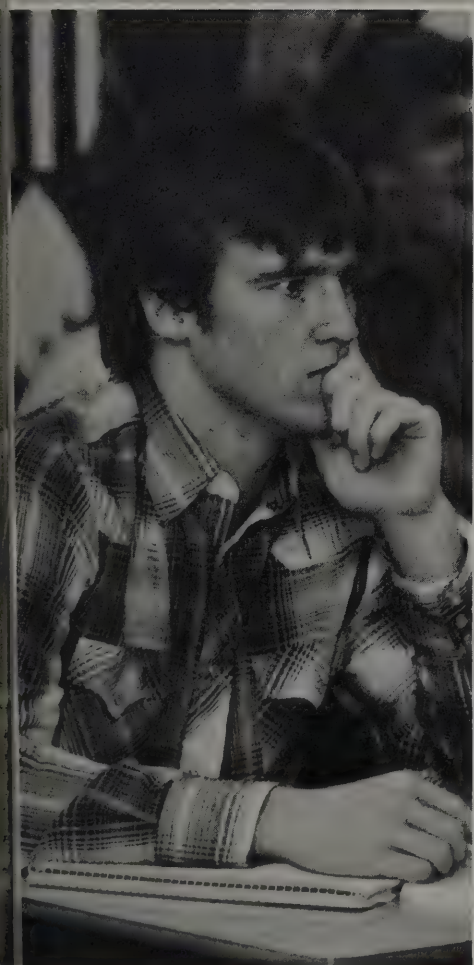

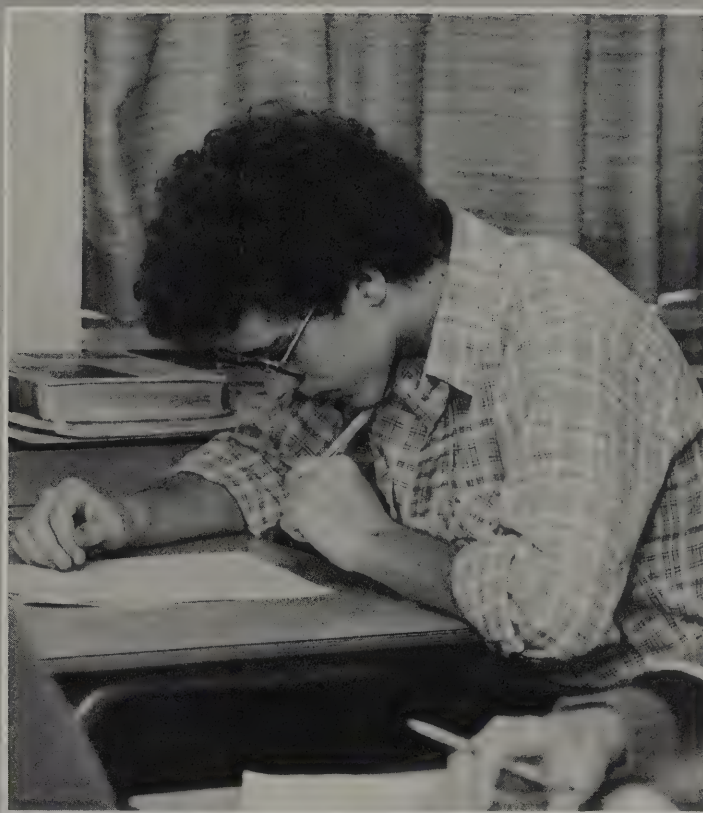

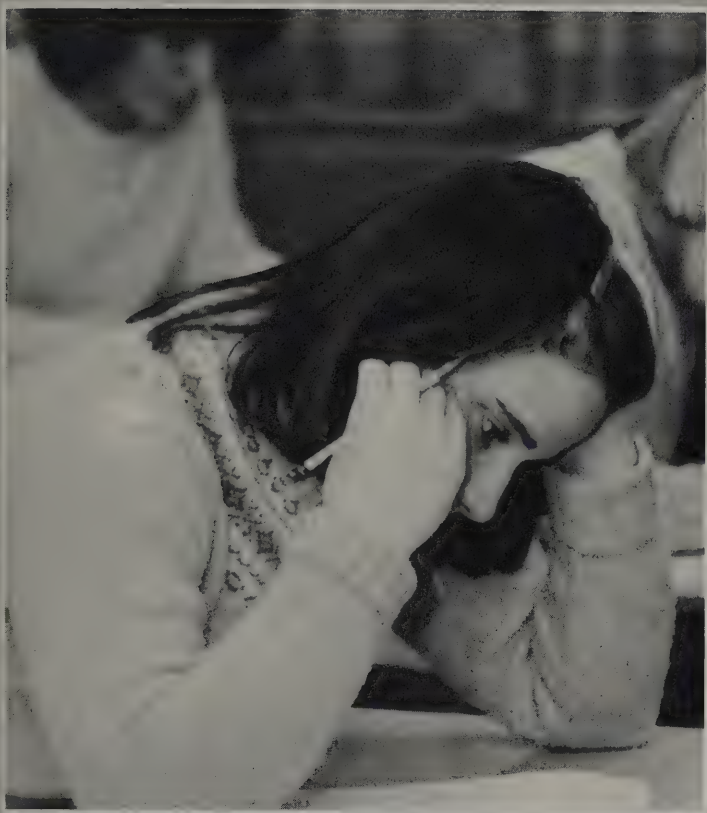

The Foreign Language Department has three areas of study, Spanish, French, and Latin. Each language has many individual projects. French III and IV went to Chicago in March. All the language classes were involved in a poster contest. The contest was held to encourage students to take a foreign language. The Latin students enjoyed a mass said in Latin. They also participated in Latin Day at Notre Dame.

A TRIP INTO TIME

A trip back into time is experienced at Marian in all four years of Social Studies. The Freshmen are globetrotters as they get a smattering of many different cultures. In the Sophomore year Western Civilization is offered. Past civilizations and their contributions to modern life are studied. Junior year explores our own U.S. History. They meet many people like Benjamin Franklin, Abe Lincoln and Typhoid Mary! Seniors take government and an elective. Mr. Hoss' lectures are dear to them.

Industrial and Vocational Arts

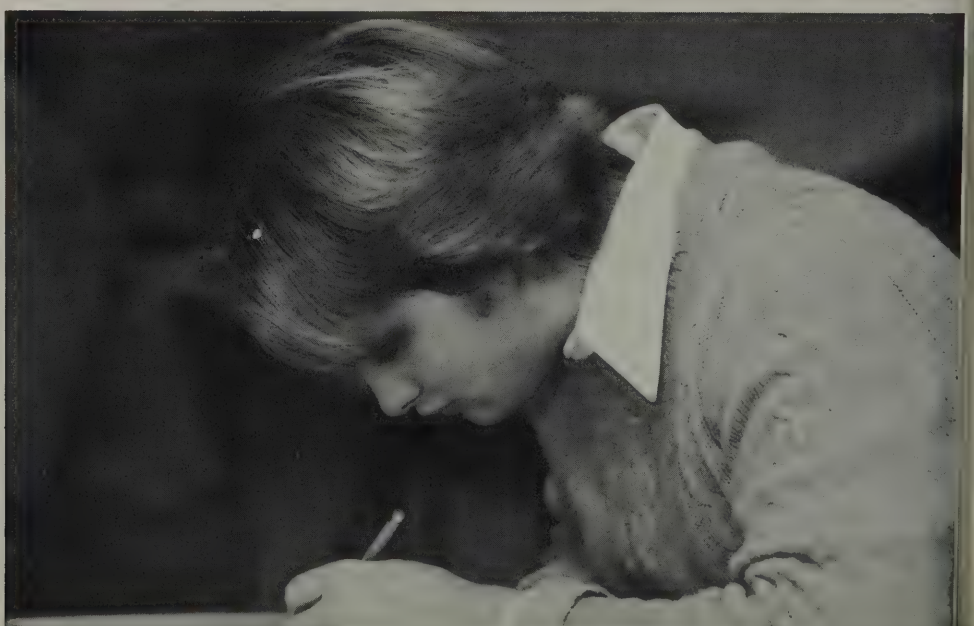

Does learning how to sew, cook, and draft sound impossible? Well, it doesn't sound that way to students in Industrial and Vocational Arts classes!

Home Economics classes make a variety of mouthwatering delicacies including soups, cookies, and jams. The sewing phase instructs the students on how to make various articles of clothing.

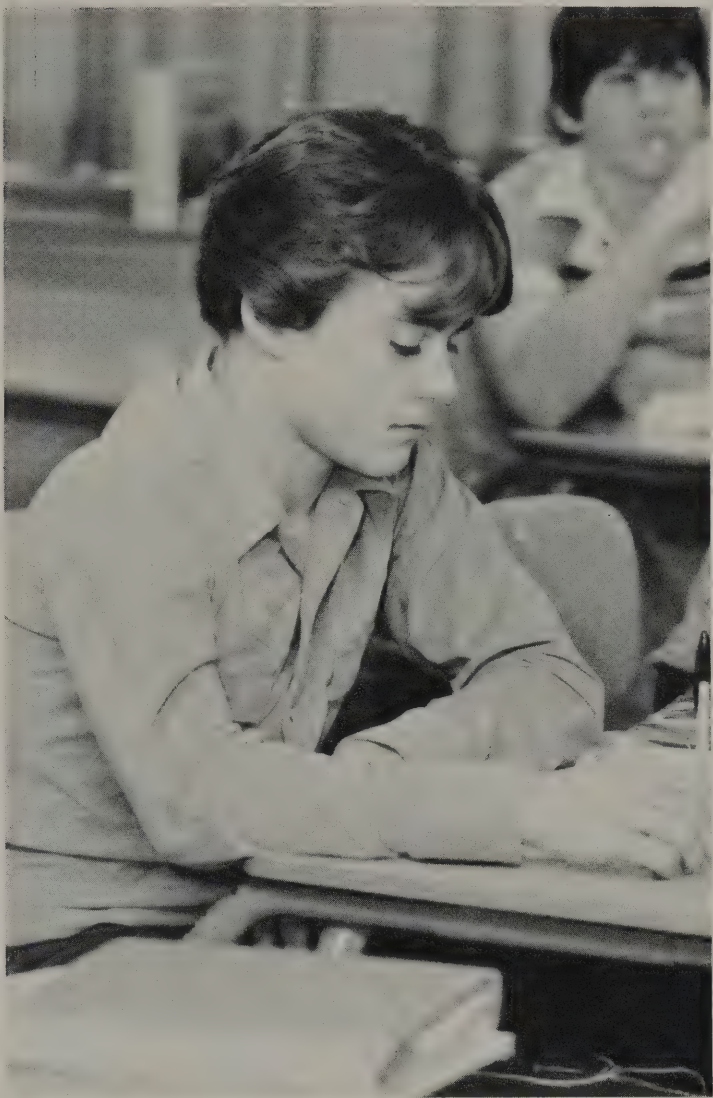

Drafting, Mechanical Arts, and Basic Industrial Arts were offered this year in the Industrial Arts department. Shop skills, and plans for houses were just two of the many projects tried this year.

Having Accidents in the Gym and on the Road

While the Sophomores are counting down the days until they get their driver's license, they are learning how to drive in Driver's Education. Each student also has the opportunity to drive during the two week instruction course.

Health class students learn about diet, mental and physical health, Coronary thrombosis and oil glands.

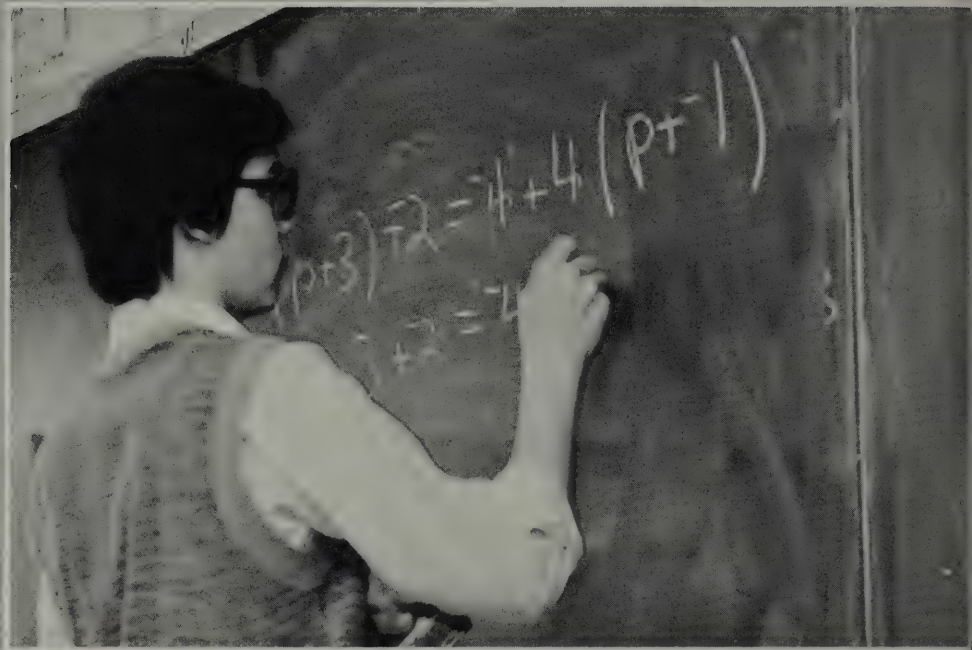

Gym is taken by both Freshmen and Sophomores in the second semester of the year.

101 WAYS TO MAKE $2 + 3 = 6$

As seen here, students enrolled in a class in the Mathematics Department often find themselves involved with hours of hard work, from fractions and percentages in pre-Algebra through solving simultaneous equations in Algebra II, and all the way to taking derivatives in Analytic Geometry and Calculus. Each person can find a class to best fit his needs and desires (of course, Sr. Ann Kathleen, Dr. David, Fr. Schultze, Mr. Krucino, and Mrs. Mitehead do their best to help their pupils succeed in each class they instruct.)

Science: Identify what's growing in your basement

What can you say about science besides, "It's scientific.?" Well . . . it's logical, confusing (to some), and at Marian, very diversified. Students can take B.S.C.S. to dissect frogs, Earth Science (to dissect rocks?), Chemistry I to study moles (or be sent to the mole room), and/or Advanced Biology to make wine. These are just some of the sciences offered; for a few brave souls there are also Chem II to continue studies under the "MOLEMAN," and Physics to show driving abilities with toy cars.

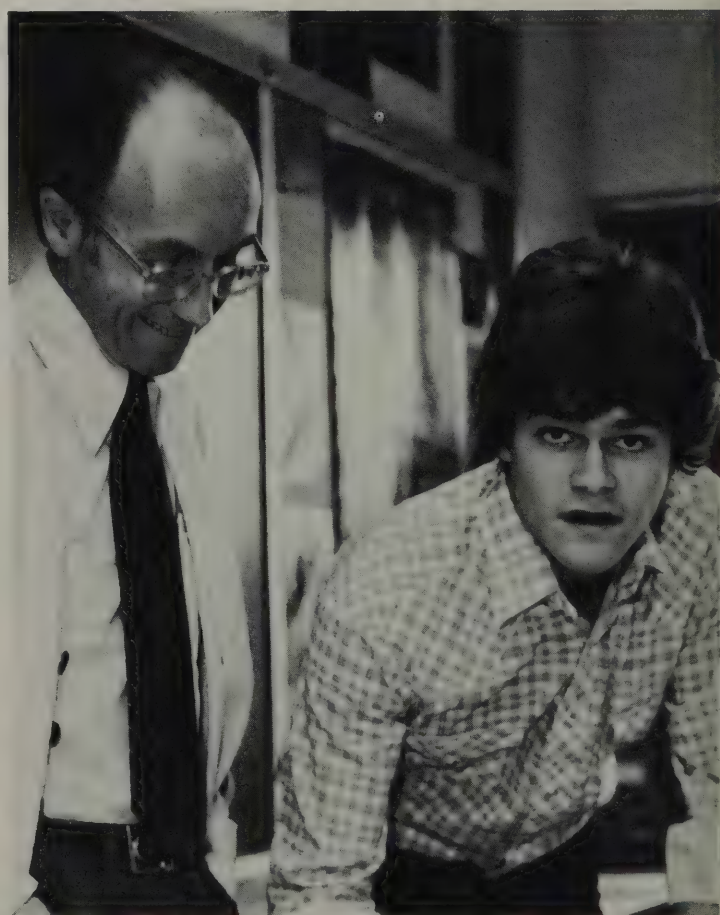

All of these unique activities are carried out under the guidance of the department head, Mr. Miano. He is helped by Fr. Shulze, Mr. DeVreese, Mr. Kovatch, and Mr. Cybulskis.

BUSINESS—AN ADVENTURE

The first day of typing is remembered well by all. Many broken fingernails were suffered as questions arose, "Isn't this impossible on an electric typewriter?" The majority of students were ready to give up, but in true Marian spirit, they persevered! The end of the second week brought new excitement—most of the 31 students had learned the keyboard. "Such talent," a few thought. Then one day the typing students came in and asked, "What's going on?" We can't type without looking at the keys!!" The keys had been mysteriously covered! Shorthand, Accounting, and Office Practice offered further adventures in the business and secretarial world.

Art Students Decorate Marian

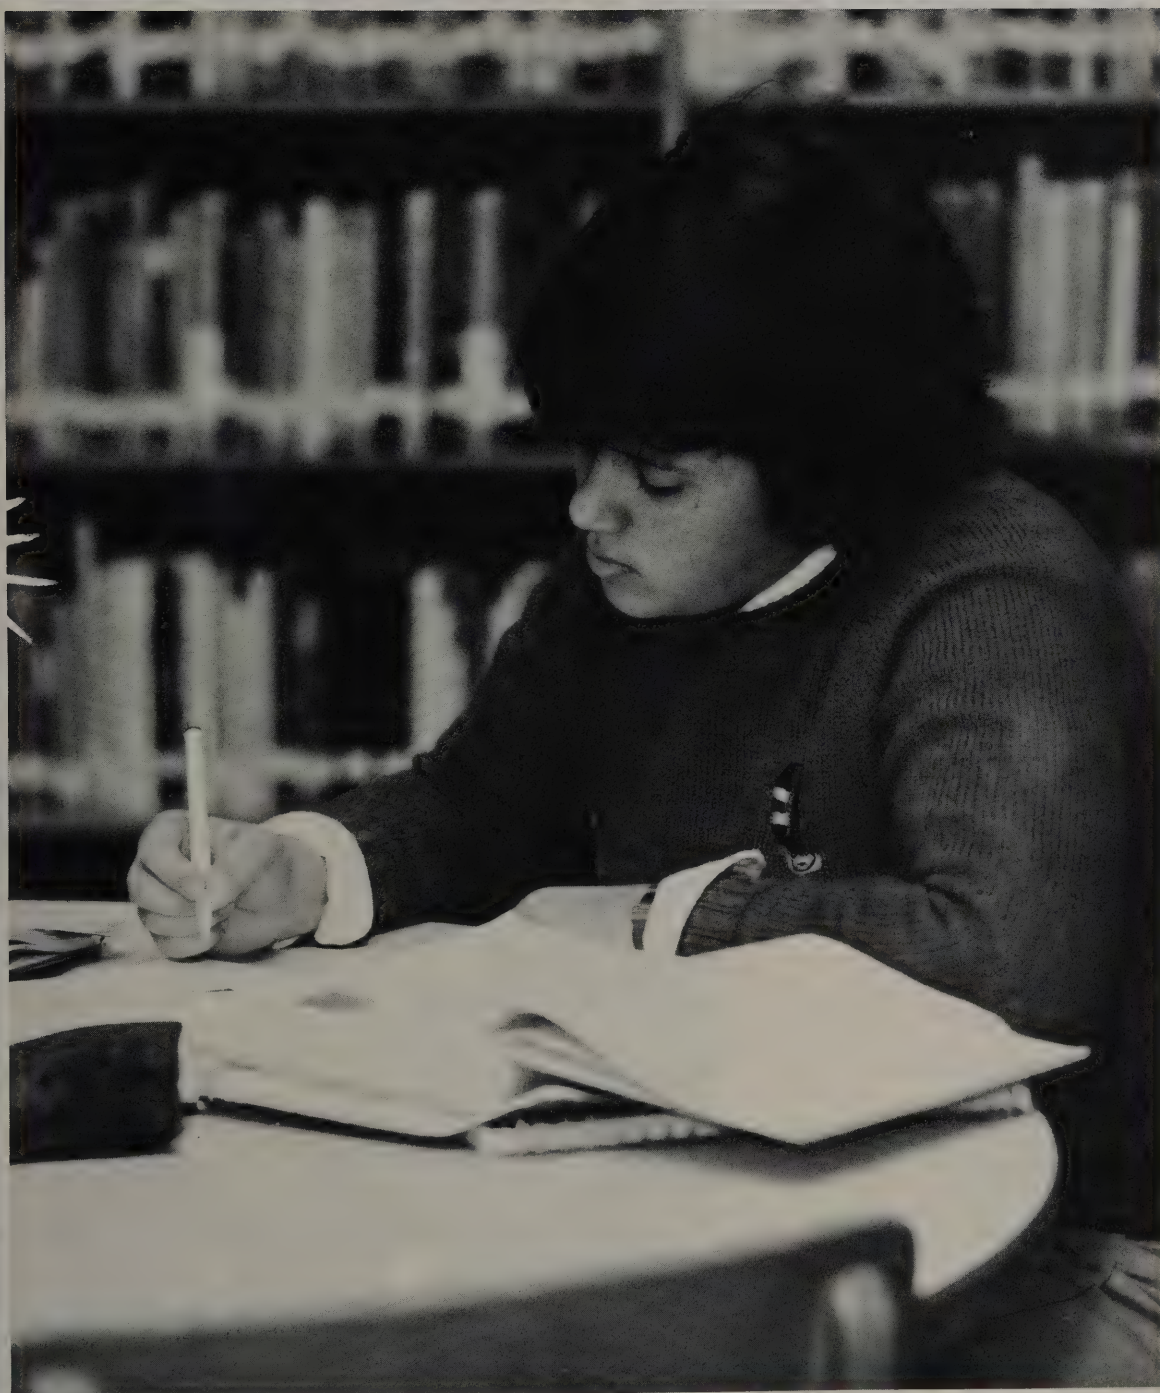

The Art Department decorated the school with papier maché crafts, paintings and sketches and undertook service projects for the community as well. This year, art students painted the statues at Mt. Alverno, designed a new school flag, and Christmas banners for the chapel. The Art Department also designed and painted a new sign for the baseball dugout.

Fourth Floor

Senior year: the last year of high school. It finally arrived, much to the delight of the seniors.

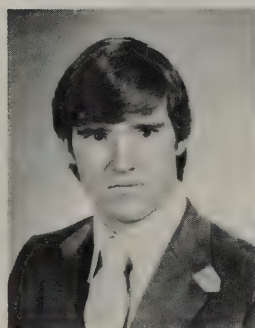

This last year was one filled with parties and more parties, especially at graduation time.

Highlights of the year included spring break in Florida, college applications, and the Nothing Club. All who went on the last retreat came in touch with what past years at Marian meant.

Everyone worked hard at the beginning of the year, in school, but the words "blow it off" became familiar around the second semester. Senioritis was a well-spread disease among the students of the class of 1981.

Dan Hogan, treasurer; Jeff Ryan, president; Janet Greer, secretary; Andy Makris, vice-president.

Junior year—one step closer to the top. The juniors were full of spirit and determined to have a good time. Finally, the words “underclassman” could no longer be used to describe them. The induction into the NHS, receiving class rings, and the prom were just a few of the many highlights of the year. They soon looked ahead to the future and realized that their last year of high school was just around the corner and that now was the time to make the most of everything.

SECOND

The class of 1983 entered their second year at Marian and decided to make it a memorable one. They learned to face Ernie (biology), Fr. Floyd (Geometry), and Padre (Religion) with smiling faces.

Despite the numerous challenges the sophs had to face, they managed to have some good times to remember. The parties began to take shape. In March, they held their famous St. Pat's Day Dance, to which you could be admitted at a discount if you wore green!

On August 25th, the class of 1984 walked into the Marian halls for the first time. Books and schedules in hand, they frantically searched for their classrooms. Walking into the wrong class was a daily event for many. After a few days, however, the freshmen were finally getting accustomed to high school life. There was a lot of homework, but there was a lot of fun too!

This yearbook is finally completed, thanks to the efforts of many. I am deeply grateful to those who supported the book by buying ads or patrons. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Bauters, for selling the book, to Mrs. Hawkins, and to Mrs. Por-tolese. I also wish to thank Mr. Ailes, our representative, and Mrs. Dalcy, our advisor. I thank my family for their understanding, especially at deadline time.

A few dedicated staff members deserve special recognition: Michele Thibodeau, Academics Editor, for her theme idea, Jill Shively, Sports Editor, for her titles, Mary Theresa Daher, Administration Editor, for her persistence, Steve Phelps, Photography Editor, for all the stuff he did, and Beth Blumberg, for taking care of the bills. Other special staffers include: Barb DeHart, for all the ads she sold, Lori Lohman, Jeanne White, and Ann Thornton. I especially wish to thank Colleen Shannon, Student Life Editor, for her artwork, ideas, and craziness that kept us all laughing. And finally, thanks to everyone who purchased a copy of the book.

Kathy Shannon
Editor in Chief
